[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, May 2.—A dispatch from Bonny, on the west coast of Africa, dated April 23, reports that there has been heavy fighting between the natives of new Calabar and followers of Oko Jumbo. The latter were aggressors. The slaughter is described as fearful. At least 2,000 persons were killed. It was feared that Joga would take a part in the fighting, thus causing a war which would become a wholesale carnage. There was much alarm among the English inhabitants and it is expected that gun boats will be ordered to the scene.

Jay Could Talks on Railroad Affairs.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Jay Gould reached this city last evening after a trip of inspection covering 10,000 miles of road under his control. He pronounces the rumor that the Wabash is about to pass into the hands of receivers to be absurd and says he has practically taken it on his shoulders, because he considers it a valuable property. He expresses great gratification at the outlook for crops and traffic in Illinois, Missouri, Texas, Kansas and Nebraska. He says the only thing the railroads of the west have to fear is unwise and adverse legislation. He does not anticipate a war of rates between the roads west of the Missouri river, in consequence of the extension of his Missouri Pacific line to a junction with the Union Pacific. He says he still favors the establishment of a new stock yards at Chicago and had pledged a half million for work whenever it may be deemed advisable to put it in operation. Gould will remain in the city a couple of days.

Liquor taxes to the amount of $28,000 were paid to the county treasurer by saloonists of this city yesterday. The tax was increased under the new law just gone into effect, and the result will doubtless be a considerable diminution in the number of saloons.

"Patience."

To-night our citizens are to enjoy the finest musical treat of the season in the production of "Patience," an opera in two acts by Gilbert and Sullivan, author of "Pinafore" and "The Pirates of Penzance." The opera satirizes the æsthetic craze which originated in the London salons and which the toadies of American society promptly imitated.

The Ideal opera company, which is under the direction of a lady, Miss E. H. Ober, has made for itself the name of being one of the most splendid English operatic organizations ever known. The repertoire of the company embraces all the latest comic opera successes. The company is composed of artists whose fame extends even over the ocean. We believe our citizens will appreciate the enterprise of Councilman Mohr in bringing this fine company to the city by crowding the Academy to the doors to-night. The sale of tickets has been brisk.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

TUSCAN, May 2.—Capt. Tupper telegraphs General Wilcox that he struck a large force of Indians at daybreak, on the 28th, and killed twelve or fifteen, among them Locas Bog. He captured seventy-five head of stock, but was unable to drive the Indians from their position. One soldier was killed and two wounded. Tupper has joined Forsythe, and will follow the hostiles over the border.

Lively Skirmishes on the African Coast.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The bark Cardenias, which has just arrived from Gaboon, reports that in the latter part of March, pirates of Pangroop Abakallas, captured and plundered a French cutter. The colonial government at Gaboon sent a force to recapture the cutter and have the pirates arrested. An engagement took place, in which a French surgeon was killed and three French soldiers wounded and Ninginingie, a town on the island of that name, on river Coma, was destroyed, and trade with the rivers emptying into Gaboon is entirely suspended.

England and the Imprisoned Suspects.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, May 2.—The Times states that it will be formerly decided to-day whether suspects will be liberated. The correspondence between Great Britain and the United States, relative to the suspects, will show that there has been no weak acknowledgement of pretension in connection with the international law and common sense. Great Britain has firmly maintained the position that American Irishmen in Ireland, must submit like other Irishmen to laws deemed necessary by parliament. It is in deference to the comity of nations, not to any claim of right that the prisoners of American nationality were offered their liberty if they would leave the country. If some of them foolishly and insolently refuse to give such pledge they must take the chance of remaining in jail as long as the executive deems necessary. It is, however, no longer doubtful that the cabinet is considering whether the prisoners may not be liberated, except those arrested on suspicion of being personally concerned in outrages.

A Desperate Battle with the Bandits.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

YARMO, Mexico, May 1.—A terrible battle was fought near this place today between a company of dragoons under command of Cirjetans Navajo and the famous bandits known as Trodala Caballeros. The troops were badly defeated after a hard and long fight, Navajo being killed. The robbers rode away to the mountain after the struggle.

OTHER SKIRMISHES.

TOMBSTONE, May 2.—A dispatch says that a courier from Dragoon mountains, was fired on by Indians near Helms ranch. He returned the fire killing one Indian. He heard rapid firing in the direction of the ranch. Several Indians appeared near the contention this evening. Dr. Larber had a fight with them, killing one. Fears were felt for the safety of Huachuca, the families of Captain Tupper, Dave Haskell and four others and only a few men to guard the post. Volunteers are organizing.

DeKalb County Delegates Instructed for Lowry.

[Special to the Sentinel.]

AUBURN, May 2, 3:46 p. m.—Thirteen more for Lowry. Solid delegation appointed from DeKalb county instructed for Judge Lowry.

MICHAEL BOLAND,
Chairman.

Bold and Brutal Burglars.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

PITTSBURG, May 2.—A Greensburg special says: "Last night, about 11 o'clock, the house of Mrs. Jonathan Stump, three miles in the country, was broken into by three masked men. The women were bound and gagged and one of them strung up to the rafters in order to extort information in regard to where the money was secreted. Mary, the young daughter, was brutally beaten, but all refused to give the information desired. The burglars got about $300 and escaped.

Cannons for the Morton Monument.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The senate bill passed granting 12 condemned cannon to the Morton monumental association of Indiana.

ACAIN VICTORIOUS.

The Democrats of the City Believe in Keeping Democrats in the Council---Nine and Possibly Ten Democrats Elected.

The election passed off quietly today. The closing of most of the saloons as usual prevented brawling and while liquor was obtained on the sly the consumers were so few that no disturbance resulted. A SENTINEL reporter made a tour of the polls and finds the aspect of things as follows:

FIRST WARD.

At 3 o'clock, 194 votes were polled in the first precinct and 160 in the second. Brames will be elected, though some of the shopmen are voting for Kensill. The dodges devised to elect the republican, or independent candidate did not work.

SECOND WARD.

In the second ward, first precinct, some 200 odd votes are polled as we go to press. Hettler will be elected, though Scott has pressed him hard. In the second precinct 160 votes are polled at this writing. A great many elements oppose the democratic nominee and there has been hard work. There is, however, no doubt of the result.

THIRD WARD.

Here Wolf had a full sweep, there being but some dozen votes cast for Sweet who was not present at the polls. Mr. Wolf has triumphed over his calumniators as we knew he would.

FOURTH WARD.

Yergens is elected. There is no opposition. The vote is: First precinct, 77; Second, 160.

FIFTH WARD.

Here the situation is doubtful, both Michaels and Riedmiller claiming the victory. In the first precinct, 209 votes were cast at the time of our reporter's visit, and in the second, 310. Both candidates and their backers are working vigorously. The republicans claim 100 majority for Michaels, but he won't get that number.

SIXTH WARD.

Here J. Sion Smith has no opposition. In the first precinct 107 votes were cast, and in the second 74.

SEVENTH WARD.

Here Wessel and Alter will be elected, though opposed by such strong men as Schied, Leach and Martin. There was some question about counting out the vote on the long and short term candidates, but the tickets state this explicitly and the votes are set down accordingly. In the first precinct the vote was 225; second, 210.

EIGHTH WARD.

J. W. Vordermark is catching 'em in this ward, five to one against Samuel French, republican. The vote was: 1st precinct, 126; 2d, 108.

NINTH WARD.

Wm. Pape, the democratic candidate is booming here. Liggett, republican, has no show, and his followers retired from the field full of discomfiture.

There is, of course, no opposition to James Breen for water works trustee.

THE SENTINEL is pleased to present this pleasing condition of things to its readers. The city will remain under good and wise democratic government for years to come. The party workers pulled together nobly, and shoulder to shoulder the victory was attained.

LOCAL LINES.

L. M., E. M., and J. H. Blakesley, went to Union City, Ia., to-day, on a visit to their father.

John Provines, a barber of Huntington, was in the city yesterday on his way to Bluffton to visit friends.

The class in botany at the High school, went out to capture the daisies and buttercups this afternoon. Angell and Barnett's open 'bus was filled by the merry party.

Limecooly and Gerding have purchased the grocery store opposite THE SENTINEL office, lately owned by A. Walters & Co., and are in possession. We wish these gentlemen who are enterprising, great prosperity.

Last night, a Jenney electric lamp, insecurely hung in front of the Golden Eagle clothing store, fell with a crash, going through a plate glass window. The lamp was again placed in position and was not in the least damaged.

Mrs. Anna Lannon desires, through THE SENTINEL, to return thanks to the members of children's sodality of the Cathedral, as well as neighbors and friends, for their kindness to her during the illness and death of Annie McLaughlan.

Judge Withers did not this morning appoint a bailiff, but it is quite certain that S. S. Ludlum will have the place. We presume the judge knows his own business best, but it would have been a graceful thing to continue in the office the friend of the deceased jurist.

William Gause, of Dan Shordon's agricultural warehouse, entertained a number of gentlemen last evening with some tests of his wonderful powers as a mind reader. The most skeptical were convinced. Mr. Gause claims to be able by this wonderful gift to hit the combination of any safe in the city. A trial will be given.

TUESDAY, MAY 2

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

BY E. A. K. HACKETT.

MRS SCOVILLE spoke to a small audience in New York the other night. She dwelt on her brother's crime.

IT is to be hoped that the "grate morril" republican editor feels better now after ridding himself of a surplus quantity of bile.

SO FAR May, flowery May, has not been flatteringly productive of picnics, hence the lovely maidens and the lurid youths are disconsolate.

THE papers of the state are booming for Hon. James H. Rice for auditor. This is as it should be, for there is no more deserving and popular democrat in the state than Mr. Rice.

WHENEVER the republican administration adopts a policy, a committee is appointed to investigate and find out whether it is for the benefit of the people or a few leading republicans.

A CURIOUS strike is reported from Vienna. The beer drinkers of that easy-going capital have determined to drink no more beer until the local brewers consent to revise their prices, which were lately raised without any satisfactory reason.

THE socialists of New York are making it pleasant for their enemies just now. They send through the mail tender missives, containing all the necessary paraphernalia for a genuine explosion. Vanderbilt and Field received explosive letters Saturday last.

SOME time ago Mrs. Sarah Burr, of New York, died, bequeathing nearly $3,000,000 to charitable institutions and religious organizations, but her will is to be contested by ten second cousins, who allege that she was non compus mentis, and incapable of making a will.

PROF. VENNOR has the rheumatism, and is not in an angelic humor. In reply to inquiries about the meaning of the aurora and sun spots, he says he thinks we will have a cold and wet summer, and he is not sure but he will allow us one frost a month from now until next September.

CHARLES H. REED is looking up the law points for his argument in the case of Guiteau. The assassin still coolly claims that the Lord will take care of him. From the sale of autographs and photographs he paid Scoville $300, and paid a like amount for having his book printed.

WE will never again tolerate the statement that the colored race is uncivilized, for we have convincing proof to the contrary. Two negro pugilists indulged in a prize fight at Philadelphia last Saturday. The mill lasted over an hour and both the fighters had to be carried from the ring.

DECORATION day is rolling around to again freshen our memories to the fact that there are those gone who should not be forgotten. There are men lying in neighboring graveyards who sacrificed their lives that posterity might prosper; that the union of states might remain intact. THE SENTINEL suggests that the ladies of Fort Wayne take the matter in hand and see that the day is properly observed, and appropriate wreaths paid at the proper time.

FRANK FISHER, the negro who ravished a thirteen-year-old girl on Friday, mention of which was made in our telegraphic columns, was lynched at Galion Sunday afternoon by a mob of about 300 men. Fisher made no resistance, and while hanging squirmed but once and choked to death.

SOME of the excavations made on Calhoun and Columbia streets, in putting in water works connections have never been repaired, making it absolutely unsafe for loaded vehicles or even empty ones to pass over them. Street Commissioner O'Brien should take it upon himself to repair the breaks or make the responsible persons do so.

A MOST remarkable feature of the lives of Jesse and Frank James, the noted bandits, is that they were never known to taste intoxicating liquors of any kind. This is a solid refutation of the common belief that whisky is a necessary forerunner of daring deeds. Let children be taught to emulate the example of the distinguished citizens of Missouri in abstaining from the use of liquor, if they intend going into the bandit business.

HENRY MONNING'S term of office as water works trustee expires to day. Mr. Monning has been identified with the water works since their conception, has watched with the greatest care their erection and we might add their completion. No man has taken more pride in looking after the city's interests and no man could. He leaves his office with the satisfaction that he enjoys the good will, thanks and esteem of the citizens of Fort Wayne for his dilligence and uncompromising integrity.

THE county board of education has again ordered a change of text books in the common schools. THE SENTINEL has failed to see or be convinced of the necessity of changing books at the expense of a people who can ill afford the luxury. Neither can we see the great superiority of McGuffey's "revised" readers, spellers and arithmetics over the other standard books, and we don't think there has been or is much room for improvement. The change is very beneficial to book sellers, however, and probably to others. William Gaffney, trustee of Wayne township, examined the newly adopted text books and the ones already in use, but failed to see a superiority that warranted such an expensive change, consequently he voted against it.

CHERUBSCO, May 1, 1882.

Dr. C. M. Goheen, of Wayne, is visiting friends here.

Dr. W. W. Munger, of Liberty mills, visited his his brother Prof. J. R. Munger last week.

Sunday arrangements were made for a Sunday school at the Eel river Baptist church. Thos. Larimore was elected superintendent. The Sunday school will meet each Sunday afternoon.

Last Saturday there was a sound of revelry by day time at the Compton farm, the occasion being a "raisin." We were on hand early, to see if we couldn't beguile some one into subscribing for THE SENTINEL, when a strange sight met our eyes. The horny handed sons of toil were taking it easy, and a set of men, strangers to us, were laboring with might and main. On inquiry we learned the names of some of these. The most notable personages present were "his honor, the mayor of Puckerbrush." The president of the "owl club," "chief of police of Watkinsville," and other noted personages from Allen county, who were either candidates or had friends who were. The reason these parties were to a "raisin" in Whitley county is they became slighty mixed the night before, and had lost all run of their latitude and longitude. The usual hoosier customs of riding the owner on a rail, and the builder kissing the cook were indulged in. During the latter performance Pete Pernot tried to prove himself the architect of the stately edifice but failed to convince the fair damsel.

One visible effect of the new road law is the hole in the ground on Broadway where a sewer caved in. This has been there nearly two months. When the road law gets into working order and takes effect the roads will be [illegible]

A 'BUSCO BOY.

THE FORDS.

They Indulge in Pistol Practice on Sundays as Well as Other Days.

St. Joe Gazette.

In the opinion of all good citizens of the community in which the Ford boys reside, it would look like they desired peace, protection and prosperity if they would abandon some of the practices in which they defiantly indulge, contrary to law. Last Sunday, at their home, near the little village of Richmond, in company with a couple of chums, (not known in the community), they went to the woods, and in the sight and hearing of other citizens, indulged in target pistol practice. Upon being remonstrated with by the citizens, they defiantly placed their hands upon their pistols and proclaimed: "Here is our license for doing as we have done." The people of that vicinity are proverbially law abiding, and will do as much as any set of men within the law, to preserve order, and when an attempt is made to override or intimidate them, woe be unto the aggressors.

PRESS REPORTS.

An Open Letter From Otto J. Doesburg, Proprietor "Holland City News," Holland City, Michigan.

It is with no small degree of satisfaction that I express myself as to the magical pain-killing and healing properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. A bad cold settled in my side and back which affected my kidneys, and with rheumatism combined, I was suffering terrible pains. I tried remedies and our local doctors with but little relief. As a "forlorn hope" I tried Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and have used only half a 50-cent bottle and feel as well as ever I did in my life.

OTTO J. DOESBURG.

PREJUDICE OF THE PRESS OVERCOME.

For fifteen or twenty years I have been troubled with that terrible disease, catarrh; had lost my sense of smell and taste; also my sight and hearing were failing fast. Tried scores of advertised remedies, with no success, and finally resolved to overcome my prejudice and make one more trial, which I did with Thomas' Eclectric Oil. After using part of the first bottle I began to feel better, and the improvement rapidly increased, and now I consider myself nearly as well as ever. O. M. HOLCOMB.

TUESDAY, MAY 2.

THE CITY.

The Arion society elect officers to-night.

Gilbert & Sullivan's aesthetic opera of "Patience" to-night.

A. H. Bittenger is urged to become a candidate for criminal judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKinnie, of the Neal house, Columbus, Ohio, are in the city.

Mrs. Prof. W. H. McComb, of Roanoke, is the guest of her sister Mrs. C. H. Williams.

James Shoemaker sings the lines of "Patience," "It was a little boy." Shoemaker, jr., came this morning and is of standard weight.

O. P. Jenks, the well known Wabash engineer, and his nephew, Geo. W. Rice late of Lafayette, have opened a retail cigar store at No. 252 Calhoun street.

Hon. Walpole G. Colerick has introduced a bill granting a pension to Eliza M. Bass, of this city, widow of Sion S. Bass, colonel of the thirtieth Indiana, killed at the battle of Shiloh.

We hope that the management of the Academy will see to it to-night that the house is properly ventilated. This is a fault which has been noticed before and which can be easily remedied.

Notwithstanding the mayor's proclamation, the back doors of certain saloons were widely ajar and the thirsty pedestrian got his booze just the same. The officers of the law seemingly blinked.

Harvey Forbes, chief clerk in the superintendent of the Wabash's office under the administrations both of Wade and Stevens, has gone to Moberly, Mo., to accept the position of trainmaster on that division.

The lengthy and unnecessary comment by an evening paper upon the painful scandal alluded to briefly by THE SENTINEL last night, is denounced by many. This may be enterprise, but we wish none of it.

The Gazette this morning contains another "sensation" clipped from some one of the exchanges of that more or less enterprising sheet. These things make the readers of our esteemed contemporary very weary.

Judge Jim Beeks and wife have gone to Shelbyville to attend the wedding of his brother, the popular innocent of the road, Will Beeks, well known here. Mr. Beeks will wed Miss Emma Blessing, daughter of a wealthy citizen.

The Indiana State Medical society will meet in annual convention at English's Opera house in Indianapolis, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 9, 10 and 11. This city will be represented by delegates from the Allen county Medical society.

The Allen County medical society met last night with the president, Dr. T. J. Dills in the chair. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. J. S. Gregg; secretary, Dr. G. W. McCaskey; treasurer, Dr. I. M. Rosenthal; trustees, Drs. M. Porter, C. B. Stemen and W. H. Gobrecht.

The Gazette says that the office of coroner is worth $15 or $20 a day. Such is not the case. The law allows $5 for the first day and $2.50 for each additional day. No more has ever been charged for services as coroner, the Gazette and a disappointed pill peddler, whose star is rapidly waning, to the contrary notwithstanding.

After the opera this evening, Miss Marie Stone (Mrs. McDonald), Miss Phillips, Miss Edmondson, Mr. Tom Karl, W. H. McDonald, W. H. Fessenden, Miss E. H. Ober and others of the "Patience" company, will be tendered a reception at the residence of the Hon. F. P. Randall. Invitations have been sent to a number of society people to meet the distinguished artists.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that "During the week ending April 29, the daily emigrant express on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway has brought into Chicago 2,800 European emigrants destined for the west and northwest. One party of 300 Danes will locate in Southern Illinois, having the necessary funds to purchase farms and start themselves comfortably."

A Cleveland dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, says that the report has been received that Henry Mannett, formerly assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania Company, but now managing editor of the Ohio State Journal, is to receive the appointment of general passenger agent of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis road. He was considered one of the ablest men in his business in the country, and was a warm friend of W. D. Caldwell, the newly-elected vice president of the Nickle Plate.

Dr. H. C. McDowell was in the city yesterday.

The grand jury has adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock.

Ed. Neuenschwander will leave for an extended trip to Germany next Thursday.

Dr. Kent K. Wheelock has severed his connection with the Broadway Medical college.

The funeral of Annie McLaughlan took place this morning and was largely attended.

Samuel Cartwright has begun suit in ejectment in the circuit court against George Yow.

Perry Spencer and Doug. White, of Bluffton, are in the city and will attend the opera to-night.

The Arion society holds their regular monthly meeting to-night to elect officers for the ensuing term.

Electric lights will be displayed in front of the Academy, Root & Co.'s and the Golden Eagle store to-night.

Murray Hartnett has purchased a fine buggy horse, Anthony Wayne stock, from Joe Clark. The animal is handsome and a stepper.

Dr. C. B. Stemen is rapidly gaining popularity as a railroad surgeon. The doctor is a very skilled operator but is modest in his pretentions.

The American medical society meets in June. Drs. Rosenthal, McCaskey and Porter will represent the Allen county medical society.

Billy McKennie has a fine sorrel colt at his farm. The animal is out of a Morgan mare by Billy Berger and gives promise of great things.

Hon. S. S. Schutt, of Spencerville, was in the city to-day and registered at the Aveline house. Mr. Schutt is a leading democrat of Northern Indiana.

To-morrow night, the popular Harmony club give the last one of their series of hops, which have been most successful. A banquet will also be served.

Dr. I. M. Rosenthal has resigned his professorship in the Calhoun street Medical college. He also tendered his resignation as treasurer of the college.

An employe of the Nickle Plated road visited the political ball last night and expressed a desire to engage in a mill. He was promptly accommodated, and went away with a battered rose.

Hon. James H. Rice passed through this city to-day en route to Frankfort. While in this city Mr. Rice met many of his friends who expressed a determination to roll up their sleeves in his political intetest.

There are twenty-three strong attractions booked in this city by Col. J. A. Scott for next season. In some of the contracts the name of the house is left vacant in hopes of the completion of the Masonic Temple, which Scott expects to manage.

Mrs. Eva Kuntz died at her residence, No. 156 East Jefferson street, this morning, of heart disease. She was a native of Germany and sixty-one years of age. A husband and son survive her. The funeral takes to-morrow at 9 o'clock a. m. from St. Mary's Catholic church. Friends of the family are invited without further notice.

This paper does not favor a personal warfare among journalists. It is tiresome to the public and unprofitable to the contestants. However, we have nothing to fear and can hold up our end, we think. If anybody can prove that any member of the staff of this, or any paper, is a thief, liar, loafer and blackguard, it would be a pleasant thing to do so. Such characters should be shown up, that the community may protect itself from them.

Mr. Wesley Work, of DeKalb county, is in the city to-day. Mr. Work is one of the congressional delegates from that county, but urgent business having called him here he was unable to be at the convention at Auburn to-day and sent his baliot in a letter from this city. Mr. Work said to a reporter of this paper that the complexion was rather difficult to estimate, the Colerick and Lowry delegates being about equally divided. We shall know the result to-night.

Mr. Frank Lightfoot, nephew of Mrs. J. H. Bass, has but recently completed a very beautiful and artistic portrait in oils of pretty Gracie Bass. The charming little girl is depicted as gracefully reclining in a boat which idly drifts along a placid stream on whose surface are innumerable water lilies. Mr. Lightfoot's talent for this sort of thing is undeniable, and though he paints for his own amusement, he might turn his gift to profitable account were he so inclined. In this connection we may add that Mr. D. G. Hackett, of THE SENTINEL, has completed a lengthy oil portrait of himself from a photograph. It is a very artistic piece of work, and as Dave is too modest to say anything about his [illegible]

FATAL STABBING AFFRAY.

Olds' Spoke Factory the Scene of a Bloody Encounter--Nicholas Petgen the Victim.

A stabbing affray occurred at the Olds spoke factory this morning. Joe Kincade, a machinist, was talking to a workman named Nicholas Petgen, when a dispute arose and Kincade, without any obvious provocation, raised a knife which he held in his hand and drove it with all the force he could command into Pegen's left side just below the heart. Pegen staggered a little but did not act as though he was badly injured, consequently no notice was taken of the affair. Pegen, recognizing his inability to work, started for his home at 129 East Louis street, and when about to enter the gate his strength failed him and he fell helpless to the sidewalk. Assistance came and the young man was conveyed into the house where he lives in a precarious condition. Kincade, it seems, knew the nature of the wound he inflicted and lost no time in making his escape.

Deputy Sheriff Clausmeyer and Capt. Smith visited Kincade's home at 189 Ewing street, but failed to find any clue to his whereabouts.

LATER.

Kincade was captured by Deputy Sheriff Clausmeyer, at his house on Ewing street, just as he had changed his clothes and, it is supposed, was about to jump the town. Although a much larger man than Petgen, Kincade says he stabbed the latter through fear of being whipped, as they had become engaged in a quarrel.

The Jenney Electric Light.

Last night the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Light company commenced the operation of a small circuit, four lights being burned in the establishment of Root & Co., and that of Goldman and Aronson of the Eagle clothing store. These enterprising gentlemen propose to burn the electric lights nightly as a standing advertisement of their business enterprise and for the benefit of the public. THE SENTINEL has no axes to grind. Hence we can truthfully record our opinion of the workings of the light. The writer has witnessd the workings of the Brush light, whose promoters are endeavoring to introduce it here. The chief fault of the Brush light, is that it has not been brought to perfection and we are assured by electricans that it cannot be. The trouble and a serious one, is that from the construction of the Brush lamps, there is a wavering and sputtering. Those who witnessed the workings of the Jenney light last night, will concede that it burned steadily and brilliantly. Professor Jenney however is not yet satisfied with his invention and will seek to still further perfect the lamp which there can be no doubt is far superior to the much vaunted one of Brush. The professor has arranged all of his patents through Judge R. S. Taylor, the attorney of the company who has spent several months in Washington on this very business. The Jenney light infringes on none we are informed and stands on its own merits.

In conversation last evening with Mr. R. T. McDonald, treasurer of the company, who stood complacently viewing the admirable operation of the light, A SENTINEL representative was informed that the company will now go to work and fill their orders, of which their are many in from all over the country. Mr. McDonald, in reply to a question, said that the matter of street lighting would be in due season brought before the council, and to convince our citizens that electric lighting far supercedes the old system of gas, the company propose to erect masts and at their own expense give our people a severe and thorough test of the light before asking its adoption. About $15,000 has been spent in perfecting the invention and the company hope for returns.

There will soon be a central lighting station established on a large scale. Prof. Jenney is laboring at two other inventions in the way of electric lighting. One is an incandescent light and the other is the application of electric light for efficaciously illuminating railroad and street cars.

We congratulate our citizens upon the prosperity of a worthy industy which must expand and add to our city's valuable industries.

Last night at 10:30 o'clock, a frame barn belonging to Cyrus Fink, of 37 Maiden Lane, caught fire and the department was summoned, who with one or two streams put out the blaze. The damage was small and the fire is believed to be the work of incendiaries. A horse was dragged from the barn almost suffocated and was [illegible]

More About Hurst.

The United States authorities at Indianapolis, are daily in receipt of more information regarding Hurst, the man who passed the raised postoffice money order in that city, and on Salinger Bros. here, and who was arrested at the Union Depot just as he was leaving the former city. The United States district attorney received a letter from Dayton stating that on March 16, a man answering Hurst's description, but sailing under the name of C. H. Loving, passed a postoffice order on a clothier in that city which had been raised from $6 to $66, receiving a fine overcoat and the change. Hurst had in his possession when arrested a pawn ticket for a fine overcoat which he had "soaked" in Louisville.

There is little doubt but that the fellow is M. H. Rosenfield, a Bohemian who has variously been an actor, song writer, journalist and writer of hack stories for flash weekly papers. Many of his songs are on sale in the city, and some of them have achieved a kind of popularity. Rosenfield's brother, is Sydney Rosenfield, the well known dramatist.

Scenes at the Political Ball.

Last night a reporter of THE SENTINEL was met by one of the managers of the ball at Arion hall and assured that only the attendance of Sunday and secular school teachers was expected, and that a young man might go without harm to his morals. Though the presence of ladies of the half world was rumored, THE SENTINEL youth accordingly looked in and vainly tried to pick out the familiar face of one of the Y. M. C. A., of which organization all employes of this paper are active members. Instead of the pious school ma'ams a frisky damsel with much rouge and many bangs came up, and with a kick that would have made Mlle. Sara, the boss high kicker, madly envious, sent our unsophisticated young man's hat flying a la Mabille. Looking about the reporter was grieved to see a man, who is married, whispering confidentially to a flushed female and with his arm about her waist. He said in a mysterious manner something about "when little Em goes away." The ladies present all seemed to be very free, and when they were kissed or hugged didn't resist it. The reporter noticed that as the hours waned some of the ladies disappeared with escorts and often again returned. Probably they wanted a kind of liquor they couldn't find in the bar-room below. Pretty soon two youths commenced what was at first a playful bantering. A serious phase was put to it when one fellow was hit in the nose and was led bleeding down stairs. Down in the bar-room the reporter went of course not to drink; oh! no! Here a trio of drunken belles of the sub strata of society were found hilariously clinking their glasses with those of their escorts, callow youths, silly with liquor, who ought to have been at home and in bed, and who we will wager didn't show up at their posts behind counters and desks until far past the hour assigned for duty. Soon one of these young men thought it would be fun to hit the girl hanging on the shoulder of another young man, a blow with his umbrella. He did so, and was showered with blasphemy by the girl whose lover for the occasion pulled a revolver and wanted some blood instead of beer. This row settled was only the precursor for numerous squabbles.

Returning to the scene of mad revelry above, the reporter was of course subject to suppress the names of some of the [illegible] who [illegible] we don't do it. One young man ought really to be given a little notoriety, for he said, contemptuously pointing to one of the unfortunate women on the floor: "Say, old boy, give so and so away. She's getting to be an old cat and can stand it. And, say, you won't put my name in, will you?" Thus wags the heartless world.

In a cynical mood the reporter left these youthful lechers and the victims of their lust to their wild enjoyment. These balls exercise an influence on our rising generation. We all know what kind of influence it is. Why moralize in the tiresome and stereotyped way. It does no good.

The managers of the ball made money, and so did the saloon keeper who had the bar privileges. We are glad to know this. These men got up the dance to make money and with no deliberate purpose to injure the morals of our sons and daughters. Then why isn't it all right, you know?

There were no political candidates present.

Judge Withers on the Bench.

Yesterday afternoon, Sheriff Cosgrove returned from Indianapolis, bringing with him the commission of the Hon. W. H. Withers, appointed criminal judge to fill the unexpired term of the deceased Judge Borden. The commission is dated yesterday and signed by the governor and secretary of state. Judge Withers this morning went to the clerk's office and Deputy Clerk W. D. Maier administered to him the customary oath of office.

At 9 o'clock this morning the criminal court convened and Judge Withers presided on the bench left vacant by the death of his predecessor, Hon. James W. Borden. There was a considerable attendance of attorneys. On taking his seat, Judge Withers made the following appropriate remarks, which were heartily applauded:

Gentlemen of the Bar:

In view of my want of practical experience in criminal proceedings, and the fact that he who preceded me had presided in this court for many years, and become familiar with the practical methods of criminal proceedure, it may not be improper for me at this time to bespeak your forbearance and solicit your assistance. I must, in a great degree, look to you for light and for help. You are as much interested in a just administration of the law as I am, though your responsibilities may be less. I can promise you patience, a willingness to hear and an anxious desire to do right. I hope, with your assistance, to be able to administer the law so that no one shall have just cause to complain of any legal infringement or impairment of his rights; yet so that all may feel assured of protection against crime. It will be my purpose to treat every member of the bar with that confidence and respect due to the profession and to gentlemen; to preserve decorum and order; and if possible do something to maintain and enlarge the high respect and esteem in which the bar of this city and county is justly held. I know that you will all extend to me while I preside here and honestly try to discharge my duty, that consideration and respect which are essential to the beneficial administration of public justice. I trust that our relations will always be agreeable and mutually advantageous.

NYE AND WILDE.

The Æsthetic William Interviews the Fascinating Oscar.

Laramie Boomerang.

We went down on the overland train Thursday to see the great æsthete. We picked him out without any trouble and tackled him for a quiet little talk all by ourselves. Mr. Wilde is very tall, with a face like a broad-axe. We told him that our name was Nye, the great Wyoming æsthete. He smiled like the rolling-mill and shook hands

He wore a soft hat and a kind of steel-colored velvet sack coat. He also wore his hands in his pockets clear up to the elbow joint. He wears a kind of Byron collar and a necktie the color of a diseased liver. His pants were of gray material and held in place with pale pink gum suspenders. These were shown as he stooped over, his coat being cut just below the shoulder blades. His shoulder blades are high and intellectual. He wears his hair long, with hay and little mementoes from the sleeping car in it. His face is thin, and when buried in a piece of pie must be a ghastly sight.

Mr. Wilde's teeth are evidently his own. Nobody could make teeth like them and escape the vigilance committee. They are broad and prominent, with a tendency to go out and look for air. He does not seem strong, but his breath proves this impression to be erroneous. Mr. Wilde wore a silk handkerchief the color of the illustrations found in public documents describing the cattle plague.

He spoke of various topics with a seductive drawl, wiggling his limber, angle worm legs as he spoke, and posing like a giraffe with the colic, for the benefit of the ladies who stood near. He wipes his nose in a languid yet soulful way that makes you wish he would do so again. We asked him when he would return to England, and he tossed his mane in the air and said:

"Ah! I don't know whether I shall survive or not."

"You get a good deal of free advertising, I see," said the Boomerang man, gnawing a little fragment from an irregular piece of navy and thoughtlessly stepping on the patent leather shoe of the great æsthete.

"Oh, yes," said Os, as he he straightened up and extended his neck up through his collar until you could see the scalloped edge of his chemise. "Yes, sir; most too much of it. Still it pays moderately well. He, he, he! However, it is absolutely stupid of them to make such beastly and peculiar little jokes upon me, you know."

We had a good deal more confidential talk with him before the train left, which we may give to the public after awhile, but at present space forbids.

Mr. Wilde's complexion is very pallid, with here and there a little pimple that relieves the monotony some. He wears no beard or moustache at all, but makes up for that with a large growth of hair on his head, which falls in graceful festoons over his shoulders like a horse's tail over an olive green dashboard. He is just as full of soul as he can be, and walks and breathes like a two-year-old steer in a cabbage grove. He smiles every little while like a colicky baby in its sleep, and sighs and places himself in statuesque positions, as though something had given away in his apparel and he was trying to keep his ethereal pantaloons on till the people looked the other way.

Guiteau's Contributions.

I omitted to say in my sketch of Guiteau on Saturday, that before I left the prison, Warden Russ showed me in one of the ante-rooms the collection of ropes and other contributions from outside persons desirous to see Guiteau hanged. Among them was a black cap from a woman in Missouri who sent her full name and address. It was [illegible] Roman church, and was made of black velvet, with a silk lining and black ribbons.

The warden said: "Here is a cap which we have used on the man whose head was cut off by the rope. It was such an effective cap that, although the man's head came off his shoulders nobody standing by saw his face, it being netly inclosed in this bag." The bag in question was a mere piece of bombazine or muslin. Ropes of all kinds appeared, sent from all parts of the country, and the nooses upon them were in general tied so well as to show that there is considerable gallows talent unemployed around the country. I said to the warden:

"It seems to me that this knot (pointing to one of the ropes) is too big to make a man comfortable when he is suspended by it."

"Well," said he, "it is the custom in a hangman's knot to have one turn for every day in the week. That is the rule. The rope you are looking at is our own, and with it probably Guiteau will be hanged."

From examining ropes we turned to models and pictures of scaffolds. Some of these represented Guiteau hanging in the picture, and then a model of the gallows, just like the picture, would be given. Small cords to tie the prisoner's hands with had been sent. In short, the disgusting anonymous vindictiveness shown seemed hardly better than the criminal's act. There is not a meaner trait in human nature than the sending of anonymous letters or anonymous insignia; and the man guilty of it may as well make up his mind that he is low in origin and low in destination.—Gath's Letter Cincinnati Enquirer

The Darkey's Tender Relation.

A negro presented himself at the desk of the Cincinnati marriage license clerk the other day, and asked for a license to marry his Dulcinea. Among other problems propounded him was:

"Are you and the lady related?"

"Yee, sah," was the reply.

"What relation are you to each other?" was the next query.

"Sah?" ejaculated the applicant for matrimonial honors.

"I mean what kin are you to each other?" explained the handsome clerk.

"We isn't any kin to each other; no kin at all," responded the citizen of Ethopian descent.

"But you said you was related," answered the clerk.

"I thought you deluded to the tender relashuns of luv what prevails between us at de present moment,' said Scipio; so he got his license.
